

School News 11/17

Today is day 57 for Cheyenne County School District to be face-to-face with its students. We are two days away from Thanksgiving break and have so many things to be thankful for. First, the county is in the Level Blue phase, which is the safer at home--cautious phase. I have to admit that we have dodged a few things that have been thrown at us, but we are fortunate to have been able to push through. Second, we have a few more activities happening that have brightened the spirits of everyone in the school and the community. This week we are hosting a football playoff game and there is a buzz in the school for that event. Finally, the production of a vaccination is on the horizon and gives all of us a sense of hope for the end of all of this.

DAILY!! Keep in mind, though, that we have to continue to do what is best not only for ourselves but for those around us. They say that we are at a tipping point. If that is the case, do what needs to be done!

As mentioned earlier, this Friday, November 20, we will host a quarter-final football game with Prairie. The game will begin at 1:00 p.m. Again we are asking that you follow the guidelines that are required of us in order to have these contests. If you are sick, stay home. The games will be broadcast by KNAB and KLMR. Should we win, we will play the winner of Stratton and Briggsdale next week. As we move towards December and beyond, the jr. high and high school are preparing for basketball. There are a few jr. high games scheduled in December. Since we are moving indoors, there will be a different set of guidelines for players, coaches, and fans. We will keep you posted!

On behalf of the school district, Have a Happy Thanksgiving!! Go Tigers!
